Waukomis Drive and Englewood Road

Kansas City's Major Street Plan

Parkway*

Typical Context

Connecting the City's parks. Less formal in alignment, following natural terrain. Augmented with both formal and informal features.

Intent

Retaining a pastoral quality even while winding through developed areas. There are several segments in the Major Street Plan named "Parkway" that have a Boulevard typology and cross-section.

Boulevard*

Typical Context

A variety of land uses, but primarily residential. Generally characterized by rolling topography and stately homes, apartments, and commercial centers. Boulevard rights-of-way tend to be wide and formally landscaped.

Intent

Provide a pleasant drive through a variety of land uses; an environment where vehicles and pedestrians can coexist. Follow the grid system, accommodating multiple points of access with intersections at cross streets.
